Great wine "glasses" November 27, 2009

By Infowars.com

Amazon Verified Purchase

We puchased a set of these in Nantucket and had to have more when we returned home. With tile floors and a pool area, it is nice to have "glasses" that won't break. I would have given them 5 stars, but you have to hand wash. If you put them in the dishwasher they get a bit of a haze. If you wash them on a heated dry setting, they warp, so please just hand wash.

SUPER! December 27, 2009

By A. Fugate

These glasses are not hard plastic, if that is what you are looking for. They have more flex and that is what makes them spectacular! Not to mention the thumb placement space. I love these glasses for outdoor and indoor use-really wonderful!

Great pool wine glasses September 12, 2009

By K. Bolton

Amazon Verified Purchase

These high quality plastic wine glasses are substantial and ecological too! They're a great size, hold a "good" size glass of wine, wash up nicely, and have a nice thumb notch to make sweaty or sunscreen drenched hands grasp them easily. Wish they weren't quite so pricey but they are worth the money.

Product Description

No more shattering wine glasses at parties or picnics, or drinking good wine from plastic cups! Govino wine proprietary, food-safe, pharmaceutical-grade polymer, so they are shatterproof yet still reflect a wine's color like crystal). The handy thumb notch on one side makes it easy to swirl and sip without losing your grip. But is gone your govino can be reused or recycled. Reuse it, abuse it, but eventually recycle it! Important note dishwasher safe. Please hand wash only. Hold 6 ounces up to the mid point of the thumb notch; 16 ounces wide, 4.4" high, 2.5" mouth.

Finally. A simple, elegant, plastic wineglass August 31, 2010

By A. Andrews

Experienced this wine glass at an event in Napa Valley last weekend. It was the first plastic wineglass I've ever used that didn't detract from my wine drinking experience. Although, now I'm regretting not taking my "govino" home instead of recycling it at the event -- they are pricey, and should be treated as multi-use, not single-use, for those occasions where glass is just too dangerous/risky.

These were a hit at our party! June 20, 2010

By MusicMama

These glasses are great! Yes they are thin, but who wants to sip wine out of a thick rimmed glass, even if it is plastic! They're perfect for a crowd, especially when everyone is having a good time. If a glass is dropped, oh well! They feel nice in your hand and sure beat a sleeve of ugly cheap glasses. Highly recommend!!

Great glass for picnics, camping - don't put in dishwasher!

October 20, 2010

By A. Mountz

These glasses are great for picnicking, camping, and any use where you want to drink wine, but don't want to risk nice glasses. We took them to the beach with us last weekend! The thumb notch is in the perfect place to hold. They're a thin recyclable plastic and slightly squishy, but they definitely hold up well enough to drink from and reuse. Just a warning, they are only guaranteed up to 160 degree temps, and apparently our kenmore elite dishwasher runs hotter than that. We chanced one cup in the dishwasher and melted it into a weird shape. Luckily with some boiling hot water we were able to reshape it later. It's not perfect, but its still usable.

Govino Shatterproof Stemless Wine Glasses September 24, 2011

Worth the price. Best looking nonglass wine glasses you can find. I purchased for use inside or outside, just for extra glasses. I have every kind of wine glass possible, but for those evenings when your friends are inside and outside and there is a lot of activity, they are perfect. Especially for our cabin, since we entertain a lot.

They feel like glass and are not too flimsy like some reviews. Come on it's plastic and trendy too.

The weekend I bought them, saw them in an expensive home decor store, smile.

What I like most, the design. If Napa Style sells this glass design, their HOT.

The glass is 4.5" tall. Good size...

Surprising clarity for plastic..... July 9, 2011

By LennyG

Amazon Verified Purchase

Saw these while visiting friends and was surprised when I realized there were not glass. The clarity is great for plastic. Yes, they are rather thin and flexible, but the thickness seems comparable to that of crystal wine glasses. Makes a great shatterproof rocks glass as well.

Fantastic Innovation August 3, 2011

By Fab in NYC

I attended a wine tasting where the proprietor used (and carried for purchase) Govino wine glasses and I fell so in love with the weightless grip and the ease of drinking from them that I asked if I could take mine home, assuming that they were disposable. He said that those were his and I ended up buying a set and I cannot say enough good things about these glasses. They are there when I run out of the "nice" wine glasses when company is over, they are the perfect shape and weight and very stable when set down, and they make the PERFECT beach or picnic glasses because they weigh nothing. You can set one down in the sand and take off and even if it falls over (unless it is very full) nothing will spill out! I would have to say that anyone who finds this a "cheap" or "low quality" product really does not have a clue. I
